STEPHANIE LARSEN

STEPHANIE LARSEN
INTERIOR DESIGN, INC.
FOUNDER AND PRINCIPAL DESIGNER

Stephanie Larsen Interior Design is on the leading edge of wellness and luxury. "I'm proud to offer my clients thoughtful, state-of-the-art design solutions that blend beautiful aesthetics with functional, performance-focused amenities, creating homes that nurture their well-being, mentally, physically and spiritually," says Stephanie Larsen, founder and principal at her eponymous firm.

This attention to detail earned her Modern Luxury's accolades as Best Modern Mountain Interior Designer this year. The award-winning designer and firm is also the recipient of multiple ICONIC Design Awards and has been honored as one of LUXE Interiors + Design's Next In Design 99 and received back-to-back ASID Design Excellence Awards.

"I'm proud to offer my clients thoughtful, state-of-the-art design solutions that blend luxury aesthetics with functional, performance-focused amenities."

With a practice that spans local, national and international projects, the Sedona-based firm is poised to open a studio space in Scottsdale soon. For Larsen and her team, every project starts with a "think tank session" with clients. "We strive to understand not only the aesthetic goals, but also their values and lifestyle," she says. "It's this bigger picture that allows us to create homes that not only look good, but also feel good to live in." Larsen also gains inspiration from her travels. "Immersing myself in the culture, architecture, fashion and lifestyle of different regions helps to broaden my understanding of the design world, allowing me to bring the very best elements to my clients from around the world."

Recent projects have ranged from a stunning home filled with primary colors to another with a home Pilates studio and thoughtfully placed crystals at every turn. "Weaving in these personal narratives brings me immense joy," says Larsen. "It's what makes every project one-of-a-kind."
